He'll announce next month

Murphy mum in Dublin

Valley supervisorial representative John D. Murphy will announce next month his decision on whether or not to run for re-election, he told the Dublin Chamber of Commerce yesterday.

"That's a good question," he said laughingly when bluntly asked if he had decided to run. He earlier told reporters he would not discuss politics, specifically eliminating the question of his candidacy.

I'll answer that in the middle of October," he added.

In his 45-minute presentation to local businessmen and women the 15 year veteran of the Alameda County Board of Supervisors touched on redistricting, the Local Agency Formation Commission (LAFCO), the cityhood vs. annexation question for Dublin, the Congress of Valley Agencies (COVA) and the south county government center.

Murphy's First Supervisorial District fell from 286,000 to 226,000 following this year's redistricting, he said, eliminating Newark and parts of Hayward from the fastest growing district.

His new area represents Fremont and all of the valley, he added.

Those 121,000 people in Fremont are vying with the 106,000 in the valley with sometimes divergent wants and needs.

A study by his administrative staff, however, showed a difference of one registered voter between the two areas.

Even though that single refistered voter margin will change with the pressures of election registration campaigns, Murphy feels "a non-incumbent from the valley could run and hold his own against a non-incumbent from Fremont."

LAFCO

LAFCO "is not a county vehicle," he said, defending the agency's decision to remove the Las Positas Valley — possible future home for Harlan Geldermann's New Town — from the City of Livermore's sphere of influence.

The sphere defines an area "ultimately within a city's limits," he said, adding the board felt Livermore could not provide services to the valley.

"At the time the sphere was considered there was no proposal for a 'New Town.' " The announcement, he charged, was brought out "prematurely."

CITYHOOD

While "city" status would offer Dubliners more "direct representatives" in their government, the presently unincorporated area would needCamp Parks in its fold to form a tax base and a potential industrial center.

"There's only one guy you can talk to on the board of supervisors and have any sway with," he said, "and he's got to convince four others."

The former member of the now defunct Valley Planning Commission lashed out at COVA, the commission's off-spring, claiming the current agency is out to "control the county" by directing the unincorporated areas of the valley.

The agency's newly adopted by-laws allow any steering committee member (Livermore, Pleasanton, Valley Community Services District and Zone 7) to veto the study of any project within that agency's jurisdiction. There only jurisdiction, he concluded, would be the unincorporated areas.

Like the VPC, the new valley wide congress "wants control of people who can't vote for them," he charged.

Livermore and Dublin were at opposite ends of the valley, he argued, leaving the areas near Pleasanton as logical sites.

In the central valley supervisors debated over a Tassajara Road location near Santa Rita, the vacant land near the Pleasanton Civic Center and the chosen site on a bluff overlooking the town.

The Santa Rita site would not be convenient to anyone, he claimed, especially those forced to walk or rely on public transportation.

Of the two Pleasanton locations, civic center land would have cost some $65,000 per acre while the bluff site was $9,000 an acre.

Both sites would be near the proposed BART rail and were accessible to both freeways.

The Santa Rita land, he added, can be sold off for added revenue.

Possession of 'Hot pants'

FBI arrests fourth man

SAN JOSE — A local businessman was arrested Tuesday afternoon by Federal Bureau of Investigation agents and charged with possession of $100,000 worth of those Levis stolen last spring.

Nearly 800 cartons of the pants were stolen from a San Jose trucking firm last May and the truck later recovered in Pleasanton.

Two Dublin men were arrested earlier and charged in the theft.

FBI agents said Randy Joseph Ruble, 47, a self-employed businessman in the import-export business, was arrested without incident at his San Jose home.

He was to be arraigned yesterday in San Francisco before U. S. Magistrate Owen E. Woodruff, Jr., on charges of possession of merchandise stolen from an interstate shipment.

Roble's arrest followed the recovery Friday of 259 cartons of the pants from a public warehouse in Hayward.

The cartons were later identified as part of the 793 cartons stolen from a Tramscon Lines truck last May. So far approximately 500 of the boxes have been found.

Ruble is the fourth person to be arrested following an "intensive" FBI investigation.

Doyle Brewer, Sr., of Dublin, and his son were arrested earlier, followed by the apprehension of a Bay Area flea market merchant.

Maximum penalty under federal law could cost Ruble $5,000 and/or 10 years in prison.

The empty truck and trailer rig was found on Pleasanton's Johnson Industrial Road a few days after the robbery .

Authorities received an anonymous call following the theft claiming the Levis had been "liberated" in protest against the firm's owners, the San Francisco Haas family.

The Haas family had filed charges of trespassing against Jewish militants who marched on the company's offices.

While the FBI and local police did not discount the possibility of political motivation, they did concentrate their efforts on a commercial theft of the hot pants.

Silvergate to get bus

DUBLIN — Silvergate students attending Dublin High School will have one bus making a minimum of two stops in the morning and afternoon as of Monday.

Amador Valley Joint High School District trustees, on a unanimous vote, agreed to this partial reinstatement of service plan Tuesday night.

Mike Ananos, director of transportation for both the Amador and Pleasanton school districts, was expected to complete rerouting and rescheduling to free the one bus for runs into and out of Silvergate sometime today.

Before this can be completed, the district must price-out the changes and additions to the curtailed 1975-76 bus schedule. Trustees said Tuesday a maximum of $7,500, from SB 220 "restoration monies," could be allotted to reinstatement of bus stops.

Doug Rose, director of fiscal services, says it will cost a minimum of $5,000.

At the same time, Amador trustees have asked staff to look at providing service for seniors living in the Del Prado area and attending Amador Valley High. Consideration will also be given students (of high school age) living in the Vintage Hills area.

Stops in Silvergate will be as close to 2¼ miles from Dublin High as possible. Parents will be informed of the times and locations of stops in notes to be sent home Friday.

George Nicholson, a leader in the bid to reinstate full school bus service to Silvergate, said earlier that two buses would be needed to adequately take care of the estimated 175 students in that area.

Four indoor tennis courts at Fairgrounds

The County Fair Association Board of Directors is going ahead with plans to construct four indoor tennis courts in the Young California Building at the Fairgrounds.

Decision to proceed comes in the face of two recently announced tennis complexes scheduled for the former Volkswagen plan adjacent to Highway 580 and one at Castlewood.

As matters stand now, construction of the courts will begin in mid-October as soon as the Oktoberfest venture is completed. Lee Hall, Fairgrounds manager, said Wednesday he had inspected the indoor courts at the San Francisco Racquet Club (at Fifth and Brannan Streets in San Francisco) to get an idea of the type of surface to install locally.

He said(the courts, unlike the other two proposed facilitims. would be open to the public and would cater to the casual tennis aficionado as well as the daily or weekly "regular."

The courts would be run by the Fair Association initially with a person, to be hired, collecting fees and scheduling the courts.

The other tennis complexes would be membership operations and, in the case of the one near 580, have a full-time pro, locker facilities and a pro shop.

Hall also announced that the proposed auto show and Irishfest have been cancelled.

A public safety committee meeting announced by the Fair board will be held at the Fairgrounds administration building on Oct. 17 at 10 a.m. Present will be representatives of the California Highway Patrol, Alameda County Sheriffs Office and Fair administration.

BART feeder bus decision expected within two weeks

A decision on Bay Area Rapid Transit District feeder buses serving the Livermore-Amador Valley as well as Contra Costa County points is expected in the next two weeks.

Bus service, which began on a Monday through Friday basis last December, will continue through October 1 with the recommendations from BART General Manager Frank Herringer and his staff to be acted upon prior to that date.

When Herringer initiated the review six weeks ago he indicated the bus service could be either curtailed, eliminated completely or continued past Oct. 1 at its present level.

Though authorized by BART, the buses and personnel are actually those of AC Transit.

The buses link Livermore, Pleasanton, Dublin and San Ramon with BART stations in Hayward, Bay Fair and Walnut Creek.

Herringer stated, when calling for the review, that BART finances were such that the feeder service might be an area in which the district could institute economy measures.

BART is reviewing the feeder bus service as it begins its fourth year of operations and observes the first anniversary of transbay tube service.

The opening of the tube last year, which brought the full 71-mile system into operation, also brought into focus the meaning of BART's role in Bay Area transportation.

And viewpoints remain divided

Council, CARD and friends visit 'redeveloped' city

An entourage including members of the city council, Citizens Against ReDevelopment (CARD) and concerned community leaders visited Santa Clara Tuesday to study both the improvements and discontent redevelopment has wrought there.

The 18-member touring group included Mayor Ed Kinney, City Manager Bill Edgar, Councilwoman Joyce LeClaire, City Attorney Ken Scheidig and Wally Mayer of CARD. Set up primarily by CARD, the tour was designed to compare the proposed redevelopment plans for Pleasanton with those instituted by the city of Santa Clara.

That city's first redevelopment project was begun in 1958, with federal funding paying for 40 per cent of the cost. The city provided the other 60 per cent.

The project area was an eight-block tract in the city's eastern corner According to then-existing federal law, the entire area was leveled and rebuilt from the ground up into a central business district with a centrally-located parking lot.

The second redevelopment project was begun in 1972 and bears strong similarities to the Pleasanton plan including the tax increment method of financing.

Under this plan, all property taxes in the project area are frozen at their current level and remain so for the duration of the project. Any amount over that frozen base is funneled to the redevelopment agency as its sole revenue. Taxes are not directly raised, since the redevelopment agency has no taxing power under state law.

City and county agencies who would usually benefit from the increase in property taxes must then go elsewhere for funding. Schools are reimbursed (up to a set maximum level) by the state under provisions of Senate Bill 90.

Santa Clara City Planner Fred Carlson said the city was able to withstand the stoppage of additional funds to service agencies due to factors not applicable to Pleasanton.

"First, a fantastic industrial expansion made the community able to stand the loss of additional funds; and second, the redevelopment agency is empowered to help those agencies if they need assistance," Carlson said.

The agency to date had not supplied funds to any service agency, he added.

Another similarity between the two citys' redevelopment structure is that the city council sits as the redevelopment agency board in both cases. Carlson said a separate board was established after the program got underway, but returned to the original set-up later because it afforded better coordination.

Many residents attacked the redevelopment proposals in that city "mainly because they didn't want any change at all," Carlson said.

Meetings between residents and city staff were held over a one-year period which helped explain the plan and iron out major difference.

Redevelopment was instituted in Santa Clara to provide better access and improve land usage. Sewer lines, access roads, landscaping and lighting were the major developments made on the 640-acre project araea.

Pleasanton's redevelopment project area totals 1,430 acres and is designed mainly to revitalize the central business district. Rerouting of several roads, construction of two overpasses and varying amounts of landscaping and redecorating to emphasize the "old heritage" look of Pleasanton are the highlights of the plan.

Santa Clara sold 15-year bonds to finance its $12 million plan, using revenue from the tax increment financing to pay off the bonds. Pleasanton's $27 million, 45-year plan includes the provision to sell bonds, which could conceivably double the cost, but officials said bonding wasn't contemplated in the immediate future.

Carlson said he was happy with the progress of the redevelopment and would do it again if faced with the same decision. He wouldn't get into another federal redevelopment plan again, however, "because the paperwork and the problems made it cost more than if we (the city) had done it ourselves."

After the tour was over, both sides declared themselves unchanged from their respective positions. "This was only a step in a long process of gathering information," CARD's Wally Mayer said.

City Manager Bill Edgar agreed, saying that data from the Santa Clara redevelopment would be weighed along with everything else to determine Pleasanton's next step.

Mayer announced a meeting will be held tonight at 8 p.m. for those interested in Pleasanton's future to discuss all information gathered to date, including the comparative situation in Santa Clara. Tonight's meeting will be held at the Pleasanton Hotel at 8 p.m. The city council will decide on Nov. 10 whether to approve this city's proposed redevelopment plan.

Sister city plan working

LIVERMORE — Four dark eyed Guatemalan girls, friendly and eager, are listening to the babble of a harsher language than their own, eating strange food and making American friends very fast.

They're visiting from Quezaltenango, Livermore's long-time sister city, and taking courses at Granada High while living with local families. Livermore mayor Archer Futch is hosting Patricia Macal while Bill Neef, head of the sister city organization this year, has welcomed Lilian Rivas.

Sylvia Mendoza is staying with the family of Dayton Ballenger and Thelma Arriviaga is the guest of Pat Lawson.

Meanwhile, 16-year-old Becky Homan of Livermore is in Guatemala for an extended visit. Many students remain all year and some have been known to stay much longer than that.

Livermore's sister city program is open to anyone interested in the cultural exchange. At the organization's monthly meetings (first Thursday in the Livermore Library, 8 p.m.) information is exchanged, members meet the current group of visitors, and some plan a group trip to the Central American country. Each summer, a contingent of local adults makes the jaunt south, paying only for their air fare and reportedly being treated royally by their Guatemalan hosts while they explore the tropical country of steep mountains, dazzling ocean, sophisticated cities and primitive villages.

The sister city organization is more than 10 years old now. "Both cities have reached a point of peace and understanding, the original goals set forth by President Eisenhower when the program was launched nationally in 1956," says organization member Philomena Medeiros.

The Oct. 2 meeting will be highlighted by a show of slides taken by Livermore residents who went on this August's trip. The four girls who just arrived will be on hand to meet everone. Anyone who wants to know more about the program is invited to attend.

$2,314,500 for operations

Fair board eyes budget

The Alameda County Fair Association projects an operating revenue of $2,314,500 for 1976.

Fair directors learned Tuesday night that, after expenditures, the association would have a total balance available of $647,522. George Jacopetti, chairman of the budget committee, said that the panel met for approximately four hours last Saturday to prepare the budget, which will be presented to the State Division of Fairs and Expositions Thursday, Oct. 16.

Jacopetti says the Fair will have an unbudgeted reserve (for contingencies) of $137,522.

The budget meeting with the state will be attended by Jacopetti, fellow directors Clark Redeker and Richard McCarthy, Fairgrounds manager Lee Hall, and Ken Robertr of the Fairgrounds administrative staff. Director Al Bonne will be an alternate delegate.

On other Fairgrounds financial matters, Jacopetti reported $196,477.59 in the Fair trust account, and $110,368 72 in the Fair capital account.

Hall reported that stall and barn rentals for August brought in $8,589, causing a deficit figure of $2,990.84 through the end of August. Hall added that ABC Roofing was the low bidder on the re-roofing of horse barns project. A budget transfer in an amount not to exceed $25,000 was approved to cover the project. Work on the project will begin Monday and county building maintenance will inspect job progress.

Hall also reported that tickets are on sale for the Oktoberfest, scheduled for the Fairgrounds in Pleasanton on Oct. 3, 4 and 5.

The Western Fairs Association area meeting will take place at the Fairgrounds on Friday, Oct. 24, starting at 10 a.m. The area meetings were formally held at the Cow Palace in Daly City but the latter facility is no longer a part of the WFA.

Hall commented on a missive received through the mail several weeks ago from a group calling itself "Help Our Fair Committee." The letter, with no more return address than a post office box number, was critical of various Fair practices.

Hall was directed to send a response but said that no reaction had been received as the result of his reply. Directors agreed that the matter should be dropped forthwith.

A buildings and grounds committee meeting was scheduled for Tuesday, Sept. 23 and a public safety committee meet for Oct. 17. A County Bicentennial meet is slated for the Fairgrounds today starting at 9 a.m.

Fair directors and their wives have chartered a bus for a visitation of the Fresno County Fair on Oct. 8.

Hall outlined his recent trip to the Pacific National Exposition in Vancouver, B.C. to directors. He recalled that Burt Morrow, master plan designer for the Alameda County Fairgrounds, had been manager of the exposition for 17 years.

Most of the PNE exhibits were from Eastern Canada, Hall said, and the 12-day national fair drew 1.6 million people. Unfortunately, Hall noted, rain fell on 10 of the 12 days, possibly holding attendance down at the annual Canadian expo.

Racing is conducted on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings and Saturday afternoons.

Food is very expensive ($2.90 for a bowl of clam chowder) and outdoor food concessions are sparse.

Five directors, Jack Maltester, John Pleich, Joe Schenone, George Bayliss and Arnold Miller, were absent from Tuesday's meeting.

New Dublin High Parent's Club sets meeting today

Dublin High School will hold a parents' Club meeting today at 8 p.m. in the Dublin High School Little Theater.

Any parents that would be interested in participating in the club are invited to attend this meeting.

The Dublin High School Parents Club is a newly-formed club as of this school year.

For further information, call Dublin High and speak with Bob Hagler, principal, 828-6410.

Do you speak German? Can you volunteer two or three hours each week to work with German language students? If so, John Seymour, German teacher at Dublin High. would like to talk to you.

Seymour has incorporated into his program a new and different text which places the German students in meaningful conversation situations and ask them to develop their conversation ability in a planned, well-controlled manner. This textbook was developed and has been very successfully used in the Morgan Hill School District. Although only recently made available to other school districts, the laterial has received wide acclaim.

As an assistant to Seymour, the volunteer would be asked to monitor these student conversations, assist students with pronounciation, and, perhaps give some explanations of grammatical points. You would not be responsible for developing conversational material, unless you wished to supplement the text.

Seymour may be reached by calling the main switchboard number at Dublin High, 828-6410.

CARE seeks students' aid to feed starving

During the 1974-75 school year, students of all ages in the Northern California, Nevada and Utah area raised nearly $6,000 to support CARE's appeal for aid to starving people worldwide.

A wide belt of famine throughout many poorer nations has wreaked havoc throughout the world and CARE is spnosoring programs to help alleviate those problems.

The money collected by the Northern California students include supplying money for wells, fencing, seeds and tools for a village in Niger; aiding drought relief operations in Africa; adding to the emergency aid to hurricane victims in Honduras; and promoting agriculture in Bangladesh, India and Haiti.

As the world hunger crisis reached unprecedented proportions during the year, students supported CARE's nationwide "Empty Plate" campaign which asked them to cut down on their food consumption and send the dollars saved to CARE's World Hunger Fund.

CARE also encouraged students to donate money in their mothers' names to aid the needy through the Mother's Day Gift Plan.

Politics and patriotism

'76 will be election year

Aside from being the Bicentennial, 1976 is also an election year, and it could be a very pivotal one for the state of California in general and the valley in particular.

Obviously, the most important election in 1976 will be the Presidential one, but United States Senator John Tunney is also up for re-election.

Representative Fortney (Pete) Stark's term also expires next year and he will have to run both in the primary in June and, if successful there, again in November.

Assemblyman Floyd Mori faces the same two tests as he seeks his first full term in office and Alameda County Supervisor John D. Murphy's term also expires.

Murphy is being his usual closed-mouth self about his plans for 1976, but potential replacements for the 14-year veteran of the board are already showing themselves.

Murphy, Joseph Bort and Tom Bates all are up for re-election, but Bates has already announced he will not run, which opens the way for a minority candidate to be elected to the board.

Murphy is steadfastly in favor of individual initiative over more socialized action, and if he is not on the board again, the tenor of that body could change a great deal.

Don Miller, the sometime maverick of the city of Livermore, is also up for re-election in March, along with Mayor Archer Futch. Futch and Helen Tirsell tend to be in agreement on many issues and if Miller were to be upended by someone who agrees with Tirsell and Futch, Livermore's council would have a new majority.

Three Pleasanton city councilmen will see their terms expire — Bill Herlihy, Mayor Ed Kinney and Roger McLain. Pleasanton's council is not so clearly aligned as Livermore's but a whole new majority could be elected next year.

The seven members of Zone 7 of the Alameda County Water Conservation and Flood Control District potentially could have three new faces after the 1976 elections.

Bob Becker, one of the more conservative members of the board, Chairman Dave Harris and Harold Zodtner will face re-election campaigns if they decide to run again.

The Alameda County Board of Education has redistricted for the 1976 election, thus depriving John Haggerty of a seat. The valley will be left with only one representative — Virginia Birdsall — whose term does not expire until 1978.

Charles Briscoe of Alameda, Ronald Motta of Fremont and John Penna of Oakland have terms expiring next year, and a trustee will be chosen from a new district in Oakland.

The county central committees for four political parties — Peace and Freedom, American Independent, Republican and Democrat — will also be reshaped next year.

Four members of the Democratic Party and five each from the other three will be selected from this supervisorial district.

Plant Talk

By SUE JOHNSON

If there is a single key to the successful cultivation of houseplants it's light.

Nature has been more generous than we may realize with a wide selection of tropical foliage plants for our sunless north windows. Close to the window we can grow caladiums, coleus, bird's nest ferns, waffle plants and the prayer plants.

The spathiphyllum is a graceful plant that does well in a dim bathroom, and the green wandering jew will survive in poor light if given a rich soil. Ivy's are unmindful of subdued light, but they do object to frequent drying out.

Last week I spoke of high light exposures — light from east, west and south windows. The low light exposure is that from a north window. The final exposure is what I call decorative.

House plants are used widely throughout the home today simply for decoration. Many can survive on a combination of indirect daylight and available artificial illumination. Here again, it's important to select the right plants.

One of the most stubborn of the foliage plants is the Chinese evergreen which will fare well on the dimmest light. The schefflera or Austrian umbrella tree is an adaptable plant, as is the aspisdistra. The dracaena marginata and the corn plant will also adjust to low light.

Some of the easiest low-light, neglect-resistant plants are syngoniums, philodendrons, pothos and the bromeliads with bold stiff leaves outstanding for modern interior decoration.

JOINING IN A FRIENDLY VOLLEY of bids at the annual Picadilly Auction, set in the enchanting gardens of the Marshall estate in Pleasanton, were members of the Pleasanton Junior Women's Club and their 100 guests. Each guest brought a gift for auction as admission to the champagne luncheon, with the auction netting $625 for the Juniors. For a second year bids were solicited by Jean Rathborne, licensed auctioneer from Oregon.

Annual Fizz Brunch sizzles Sunday

The Fizz Brunch for the Children's Home Society will be a family affair this Sunday — and so preparations are also a family affair with Sarah Sheridan, Ann Mowry, Carole Ericksen, Lisa Maddox and Sally Sheridan all helping assemble decorations.

The seventh annual Fizz Brunch sponsored by the Charlie Brown Auxiliary of the Children's Home Society will be a family affair Sunday, Sept. 21 at Milo Place in San Ramon.

More than 700 families from the San Ramon area make this event a yearly outing, according to Mrs. Dennis Velikonia of the Charlie Brown Chapter. The chapter earned $1500 last year on this one event alone, and hopes to garner more this year because of generous corporate donations, Mrs. Velikonia reports.

The brunch will be held outdoors and features several game booths to amuse children. Bobo the Clown will make an appearance, and an ominibus provided by Allied Brokers will cruise Davona Drive, Milo Way and Tareyton Drive offering transportation to brunch-goers on foot or parked in the vicinity.

The brunch menu will include scrambled eggs, ham, hash-browned potatoes, sweet rolls and a fruit cup, with a choice of coffee or milk. Fizz and Bloody Mary's will be served in an adjoining area by the husbands of chapter members.

Tickets are $2.75 for adults and $1.25 for children under 12 years of age. Tickets are available from Mrs. Duane Maddox at 828-5547, or any Charlie Brown member. Proceeds benefit child and welfare services provided by the Children's Home Society of California.

Taxpayers union opens Bicentennial

The American Taxpayers Union will launch a series of Bicentennial activities tonight at 8 o'clock at the Livermore Library.

The first program will be a slide presentation on the De Anza expedition presented by Livermore Historian Janet Newton, a member of the Livermore Bicentennial Organization executive committee. Mrs. Newton has also authored two books on early California history, the most recent on the De Anza expedition from Mexico to the San Francisco Bay in 1776.

The second Bicentennial activity will be the presentation of a Bicentennial flag to a Livermore school, and the third feature planned is a slide show on the City of Livermore as it was, as it is today, and as it is envisioned.

ATU's theme for the Bicentennial year is: "No taxation without representation." With this in mind, the ATU will conduct random polls of registered Livermore voters on a variety of civic proposals, and publicize the results.

The public is invited to ATU activities.

Smoking teenager?

Teenagers who think because they're young they don't have to worry about lung cancer are just fooling themselves, according to the president of the Alameda County Unit, American Cancer Society

"According to American Cancer Society figures, a teenager who begins smoking at age 15 risks a four times greater chance of dying from lung cancer than a person who begins smoking after age 25," Dr. John Metheny revealed.

Statistics show that more young people than ever — especially young girls — have gotten hooked on smoking. And it's a lot more difficult to quit than never to start," Dr. Metheny emphasized.

"We're up against peer pressure, the slick ads and promotions by cigarette companies and, in many cases, the example set by parents of smoking teenagers," he said.

A main thrust of the ACS's local efforts is in the schools. "We don't want to scare teenagers, we just want to educate them," he explained.

Another way the society educates you is to encourage local youth groups to speak out again smoking — a kind of positive peer group pressure. Dr. Metheny sees no easy solution to the problem but offers the society's materials to anyone who wants information on smoking and how to quit.

PAL ARTIST OF THE MONTH
Among works by Barbara VanSlyke on display at Franklin Savings in Pleasanton are these dual modes of expressing the same subject, 'Old Shed,' in yarn and in watercolor.

Barbara VanSlyke displays many moods in multi-media

Barbara VanSlyke of Pleasanton has tried her hand at nearly a dozen modes of artistic expression and demonstrated a golden touch with each one.

Her fabric art, stitchery, off-loom weaving, prints, needlepoint and painting — all of original design — will be featured through October at Franklin Savings and Loan Association, Valley Road, Pleasanton.

Second-term president and charter member of the Pleasanton Art League, Barbara is currently involved in preparations for three art classes she will teach this semester through the Amador Adult Education Program.

She is most excited by a new class entitled "Fabric and Fiber Workshop," which will explore creative uses of a wide variety of materials "plus a good measure of imagination."

Barbara encourages unorthodox expression among her pupils, as she herself has shown independent thinking in her own work. Her latest endeavor consists of sheer window hangings or "soft sculpture" now on display at the Livermore Art Association Gallery at the Carnegie Building.

Mrs. VanSlyke will also conduct two other classes in the rudiments of stitchery: creative stitchery on Tuesday evenings at Amador Valley High School, and needlepoint on Thursday evenings, also at Amador High. The fabric and fiber workshop will meet Tuesday mornings from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at Camp Parks.

Barbara has earned numerous awards, mainly for her textile art, at PAL and LAA art shows, the county fair, and Livermore Cultural Arts Festival. Her interest in art has been life-long, with her formal training beginning at a school for photography.

Her three children have inherited her artistic bent. Ruth, 19, was awarded the PAL art scholarship; Jean, 17, is painting a mural in the drama room at Amador High; and Jim, 17, is already embarked on a career in ornamental horticulture.

Lithophiles dredge for gold history tonight

Livermore's gem and mineral club, the Lithophiles, will enjoy a slide presentation on gold dredging in the Sacramento Valley tonight at the Livermore Recreation Center.

The 7:30 p.m. program also includes an account of the history of the dredger and the many processes used to extract gold.

The club is planning its annual picnic Sept. 28 at the Veterans Park from noon to 5 p.m. The picnic features a chicken barbeque, rock auction and games.

The Lithophiles are seeking volunteers to help them set up an exhibit for Livermore's Festival '75 slated Oct. 4 and 5. The club has scheduled work nights each Wednesday at The Barn in Livermore and will need donations of slabs or tumbled rocks.

The club is also anticipating its first gem and mineral show at The Barn Nov. 22 and 23. Dubbed "Lithorama," the show is open to members and other collectors who may enter a case of minerals, jewelry or cut stone.

Refreshments will be served, and door prizes awarded following tonight's meeting which is open to the public. For more information contact Jane Inslee at 443-2221.

Livermore Festival '75

Three will judge fine art show

The three selected jurists who will award $1800 in the fine arts show during Livermore's Festival '75 will bring impressive backgrounds in art criticism and personal achievement to their task.

Florence Resnikoff, F. Herbert Hoover and John Fitzgibbon will judge an expected 500 fine art entries in all media Saturday. The Times will recognize the top winners of that contest in the Sept. 25 edition of Inside the Arts.

Livermore's Festival '75, a festival of the arts based on a Bicentennial theme of "Two Hundred Years of Art in America," will open for two days of continuous entertainment Oct. 4 and 5 in Livermore. Ongoing activities for the community celebration include the juried art show, a photography contest, display and sale of crafts, performing dancers, musicians and dramatists, a pioneer village for children, and an outdoor cafe.

Juror Florence Resnikoff of Oakland has taught metal arts, jewelry making, sculpture and weaving at the university level. Awarded a National Endowment for the Arts Fellowship in 1973, she is listed in the latest edition of "Who's Who of American Women," and is the state representative of the American Crafts Council.

Ms. Resnikoff is a past president of the California State Craft Congress and the Metal Arts Guild of Northern California.

John Fitzgibbon is a professor of Art History at Sacramento State University. A recipient of National Endowment of the Arts grants since 1970, he has lectured extensively on California art and art in general throughout the United States. Fitzgibbon has been a contributor to "Art in America" since 1971.

F. Herbert Hoover, listed in "Who's Who in American Art," has authored two valuable guides to galleries in San Francisco and in Los Angeles. Past president of the California Heritage Council, he is owner of Hoover Gallery in San Francisco, the exclusive West Coast representative for Dong Kingman, Lemmy, Joseph Vasica and Michael von Meyer.

The judges for the Livermore Festival '75 photography contest have yet been announced.

The photography I competition is open to both professional and amateur contestants this year. A total of four entries will be allowed in three categories: color slides, color prints and black-and-white prints.

Notably color slides will be accepted in two sizes, 35 mm and 2-1/4 inch square. All entries must be mounted, and a frame is optional but of no point value. — Ribbons will be awarded for first, second, third and honorable mention in the three categories.

Contest Chairman Colleen Redpath has designed a new approach to the awarding of cash prizes for photography. A prize of $30 will go to each best entry in five categories — nature, landscape, portrait, still life and photojournalism —with both color and black-and-white entries competing.

Entry forms are available at Photo Facets and Ken's Camera Shop in Livermore, and The Photo Shop in Dublin. Closing date is Sept. 25.

Blues and bluegrass jam Saturday

THE HOMESTEAD ACT
Elmo and Patsy will tantalize listeners with bluegrass music wild as bootleggers running whiskey through the back roads.

Grand finale of the blues and bluegrass concert, which swings at noon Saturday , Sept. 20 at the Alameda County Fairgrounds Amphitheater, will be a jam session of blues giants Luther Tucker, Charlie Musselwhite and John Lee Hooker.

Billed as "Never a dull moment" by Bob Stenseth, the young producer who makes his debut with this large-scale concert, the afternoon promises continuous entertainment. Vaudevillian acts and magic shows will fill the dead space between sets.

A lively bluegrass will be offered by Elmo and Patsy of The Homestead Act who have recently been heard on San Francisco radio station KNEW.

The remainder of the program concentrates on "heavy blues" with the legendary John Lee Hooker and his Coast to Coast Blues Band, Charlie Musselwhite and his band, and Luther Tucker and company.

Hooker has recorded over 400 blues, most of which he has written. Born in the Delta region of Mississippi, John Lee Hooker has composed for The Rolling Stones and Led Zepplin, and musicians all over the world acknowledge his influence. The New York Times has said of Hooker: "Hooker's voice is immediately arresting, a deep dark-leather timbered instrument that turns sullen, nostalgic, brooding or sensuous. He ... makes the listener feel Mr. Hooker's hand is on his shoulder and the song is for him alone."

Blues harp virtuoso Charlie Musselwhite made a reputation on the Chicago blues circuit, Luther Tucker sang blues lead with the James Cotton Band.

Tickets at $9.50 per person are available at Odessy Records in Livermore, the Sounds of Sherry in Pleasanton, and Rieras Music in Dublin or at the door.

SR art exhibit

The works of Joy Weigel Sciarra and her husband Joe Sciarra are currently on display at the San Ramon Valley Branch Library.

Joy's medium is pen and ink, as well as limited edition lithographs. Her subjects are from nature — mushrooms, ferns, pine cones, flowers and snails.

Joy received her training under George Tutt at Williams College in Missouri and at the University of Missouri at Columbia. She has been exhibiting her works in the Bay Area for four years, and has been honored by one-woman shows in San Mateo, Burlingame and Hillsborough.

Also on exhibit at the library are Photographs by Joe Sciarra. Like Joy, he concentrates on subjects from nature, spending his free summers (he teaches school) on photography.

The Sciarra exhibit continues through Oct. 17. The San Ramon Valley Branch Library is open from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Thursday, and from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Friday and Saturday.

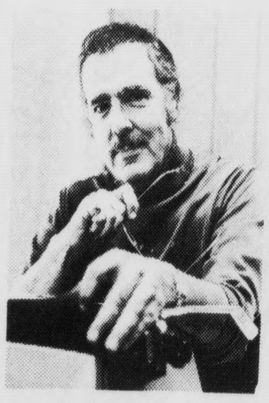
NY CITY BALLET HAS RECORD ATTENDANCE

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York City Ballet has concluded a month-long residence at the Saratoga Performing Arts Center in Saratoga Springs, N.Y., where a record 84,480 persons attended. This was the 10th anniversary season for both the center and the ballet's appearing there.

The company gave an all-Ravel program at Wolftrap Farm Park in Vienna, Va., from Sept. 3-7.

SETTING THE SCENE

Bill Hayden



Don't construe the following comments as an obituary or even as an in-memoriam piece.

Carl Schweickert, so abruptly and immediately departed from this scene, requires mention as a review of the human spirit; but not with the pompous platitudes usually reserved for those slipping beyond the pale.

To say, "Carl is dead," would be mouthing an empty phrase. The spirit of the man lives on, not only through his children, but through the countless people who knew and loved him; friends who worked hard at maintaining his friendship.

Carl was mercurial in his attitudes and actions. He was as unpredictable as the errant autumn breeze; as tough as steel and as soft as eiderdown. These were the qualities binding him to the human race. These are the qualities to provide him a proper niche in the hereafter.

How many men named Schweickert have an 'Irish' wake to speed them on their way? There was laughter and tears and lots of beer and not a sacrilegious moment nor an irreverence to mar the solemnities.

He was a man of infinite riches and endless resource. Carl may not have been an Einstein, but he had the 'genius' quality in his work. He may not have been a Danny Kaye, but he had the total comic spirit. He could referee a soccer match or do a Pavlova ballet routine — and did in a Christmas show I directed for St. Michael's.

It was with some trepidation that I allowed him to 'proceed in secret' with a highlight moment in the show. This is not good theatrical procedure. No director should permit an actor total control over any segment of a performance.

By the grapevine I learned he was going to a local dance studio to learn the proper steps. Well, I thought, at least he's taking it seriously. It wasn't something he would be improvising at the last minute. Come to think of it, I don't believe there was a moment of Carl's exceptional life he didn't have under complete control — even if people thought otherwise.

His wife Marie might disagree, but not on every issue. Those two seemed inseparable. 'Aut Marie aut nullus,' was Carl's motto. It boggles the imagination to dwell upon the variety and color of their relationship.

But back to the ballet.

At dress rehearsal, everything fitted neatly into place. Now 'older' matrons managed a respectable 'Charleston' routine. The magician proved adequate and when we moved on to the finale, the Carl Schweickert dance contribution appeared to be a respectable and not terribly funny masculine version of Pavlova's famed dying swan. Oh, you man of little faith. I should have known better.

Performance night and all went well. A packed house seemed to be enjoying every moment of the show as we approached the dance routine. The famous theme began and an audience tittered expectantly as a leotarded, tou-toued, well-rounded ballerina swept onstage. The dance was remarkably choreographed in spite of the overly muscular body. The initial shock wore off, the dance dragged on and I was afraid we were sinking into the mundane.

Not so. Suddenly that lovely swan began to molt. The world disappeared in a sea of pink feathers. Thunderous applause. That's the only way to describe the reaction. But Carl topped the ultimate. As the dancing bird took its bow, it smiled. Somehow Carl had rigged an 'illuminated' tooth in his generous mouth. That almost featherless swan was accepting audience approval with a 'winking', 'blinking', 'flashing' tooth. Thank God, it was the star spot. All that was left was curtain call. No one could have followed Carl Schweickert.

That, I guess, is as good an epitaph as any. No one could, or can, follow Carl Schweickert. He was an original created from a now broken mold — a mad scientist, a Navy man, a loving husband, a dedicated father and a true friend. All this was rounded out by an abiding faith in his God and in his fellow man.

Temporary condolances to wife Marie and children Richard, Tom, Jerry, Mary-Therese and Mitch. I say temporary because the present pain will pass and all that will remain is the joyous memory of things past and that which has gone before will provide much for a wondrous future.

"You sound tired, dear. Why don't you take a nap?"

astrograph

by Bernice Bede Osol

For Thursday, Sept. 18, 1975

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You have a tendency today to talk to the wrong people about your confidential affairs. Button up.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Examine your motives carefully today regarding your behavior toward a friend. You may be a little cool because you're envious of something she has.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Try not to be vacillating where your views are concerned today. Failure to take a firm position will be annoying to your associates.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) If you're working with new appliances, tools or materials today, first study the instructions carefully.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Be on guard if you find yourself in the company of one whom you know to be a bit deceitful. She may pull something sly again today.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Tie a little string around your finger today if there's something important you promised to do for your mate — it could slip your mind.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Attend to your most important tasks as early in the day as possible. Your initiative begins to wane rapidly thereafter.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Most of the day you'll manage your resources wisely, but if you plan to go out on the town it could be a very expensive night.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Today you're likely to leave a trail of things half finished. Several projects will be shelved for a considerable time.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Don't praise someone today unless she really deserves it. Flattery for its own sake will boomerang.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Don't buy anything today unless you have a specific purpose for it. An expensive item you may never use will look very appealing.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You'll try to behave in a manner today so as to impress others, though you'll know what you do is not to your advantage.

Your Birthday

Sept. 18, 1975
You have excellent financial prospects for the coming year. Be wary, however, of making a change in location till you have checked everything out.

Opening lead — K ♣

By Oswald & James Jacoby

"Well," said North, "my overbid paid off."

"Deleted, deleted," said West. "If I had opened a trump it wouldn't have. In addition your partner had to really play the hand well."

South had given the hand a fine play. He took dummy's ace of clubs, led the jack of diamonds and let East hold the trick with the queen.

East shifted to a trump. South won in dummy, ruffed a club, cashed the ace of diamonds, ruffed a diamond, ruffed another club and played two more rounds of trumps.

South was down to one trump, one diamond and two spades. The simple play to make the hand would be to lead a spade toward dummy. But after considerable star gazing, South came to the conclusion that West held the last club and East the last diamond. In that case it didn't matter who held the ace of spades. South just led his last diamond. East had to win and lead a spade up to dummy's king.

We bid three hearts and get ready to duck if we get doubled. The hand is too strong for us to sit back and let our opponents play at two spades.

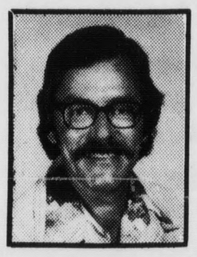
Harry's Corner



It's soccer season once again! And the boys and girls on our valley teams are rarin' to goal. My own kids have all been involved in soccer, and the approach of the '75 season made me wonder just where the word "soccer" came from. A little research answered the question and also provided some background on the beginnings of the sport. The rules for soccer, or Association Football, were first definitely established in 1863 by the London Football Association, whence the name. Later the term "association" was abbrevated to "assoc", which somehow became transformed into "soccer", as the game is commonly known today.

Anyway, what's in a name? It's the game that counts and the healthy release of energy it provides for our youthful Pele's. Let's support their games with noisy crowds and cheer on our favorite teams.

Neighbor Angie Hjerpe offered me the following recipe, and it's being presented here just the way she handed it to me!

RINDER ROULADEN

Eine Scheibe Rindfleisch Pro Person

Die fleischeiben werden mit salz und pfeffer bestreut, nach belieben mit senf bestrichen, mit geraucherten speck, zwiebelworfeln und sauren gurkenscheiben belegt. Dann bereitet man eine mehlschwitze und kocht das fleisch bei geschlossenem topf auf kleiner flamme eine stunde.

Thought for the day: make somebody happy with a kind word and a smile, and if you want the translation for this recipe you have only to dial . . .

'Lively' Foothill battles Memorial

In these days of X-ratings and grim realism, Foothill High School comes prancing down the runway with all the old-time zest and bounce of a Gene Kelley number.

The Falcon football team is making family entertainment fun again, and it presents its second live performance this evening at 8 on the Amador Valley High School field.

The opposition is Memorial High of Fremont. Though Memorial is the newest member of the Mission Valley Athletic League, it is the heavy favorite to win. This is, afterall, just the second ever varsity game for Foothill.

There's no question, however, that fans will file out of mador stadium whistling the Falcon playbook. That's where the boffo box office is.

Foothill threw the football 25 times in its opening 27-2 loss to Vanden last Friday, a figure the Miami Dolphins would label excessive, if not down right scandalous.

Coach John Lupoi says the Falcons will come out flying just as high tonight.

"There's one of two ways we could go," Lupoi says "We could run the ball into the ground and wear down our kids, or go to the air which would be a lot more relaxing We'll throw the ball. Besides, our fans have got to have some fun."

The Falcons, who will suit up just 18 players, elected to rely heavily on their passing attack before the season started. As Lupoi said, it is less taxing on an already over-worked roster.

It is even more vital this evening because the team's top runner, Brad Cotton, is out with strained ligaments in his foot The 6-1, 210 fullback gained 53 yards on just six carries last Friday before he finally hobbled off the field with his injured foot.

"Every time he carried the ball, he picked up a first down," marvelled assistant coach Jay Craney "Then he started limping."

Junior Mike Colvin, a 6-0, 190 linebacker, will assume Cotton's role in the backfield tonight. He has never played the position before this season, but has 4.9 speed in the 40-yard dash.

If quarterback Rick Henderson has his way, Colvin may not have to worry often about exhibiting that speed.

Henderson completed 13 of his 25 passes for 108 yards last week, and may be out to surpass those totals. Passing is a family trait. Younger brother Kevin completed 29 of 40 in Foothill's junior varsity game a week ago.

Though the Falcons scored just two points in their first game, they generated some offensive excitement. They picked up 150 yards on the ground, and missed two touchdowns by a total of a yard and an inch. Defensively, Foothill gave up 220 rushing yards to Vanden runners, but begrudged just one sustained scoring drive The other three touchdowns followed Foothill miscues that set up the opposition with overwhelming field position.

Vanden ran one fumble in for a touchdown, and received the ball at Foothill's one and two-yard line on different occassions.

"It was really a frustrating game," Lupoi said. "They'd have a third and 17 play, and we'd have their quarterback trapped behind the line of scrimmage, then he'd run clear over to our bench and down the field for a 25-yard gain."

"If you took away those three touchdowns they scored by turnovers," Craney added, they just scored once by driving the ball, and even that was on a 65-yard run. The guy who scored had more moves than Fred Astaire."

Tonight it may be Foothill's turn to spawn some show business related similies.

Glads face tough foes

Two years ago, it was the tournament championship. Last season, second place following a disappointing overtime loss in the title game.

Chabot College is always involved in the key games at Diablo Valley College's Floodlight Invitational Soccer Tournament.

But this evening, as the third Invitational gets underway at Pleasant Hill, the Gladiators wonder if they'll survive the first round.

They play Ohlone College at 5 p.m. on Diablo's Astro Turf football field, and though Chabot is 3-0, there are no cinches in this tournament.

It will be the greatest year ever for the Floodlight, because the teams are stronger than ever. Chabot is the defending state co-champion. There is Canada, which dropped a one-goal decision to Chabot in the Nor Cal championship, and which also tripped the Glads in overtime for the title at this tourney a year ago.

Santa Monica is a first-time entrant, and it was that school which defeated the other defending state title holder, East Los Angeles, last season.

Diablo Valley, Modesto and West Valley will play, and all are improved over a year ago.

Then there is Ohlone, 3-0 this season, and armed with an All-America caliber striker. His name is Ralph Garcia, and he scored five goals, plus two assists, in Ohlone's 9-1 rout of Contra Costa College Tuesday. He will receive blanket coverage from a Chabot halfback this evening, though coach John Shaw isn't sure who will draw the assignment yet.

"It will have to be someone who is fast, tackles hard and can stay with Garcia wherever he goes," Shaw said.

"If we play intelligently," he added; "we'll beat Ohlone."

Intelligently means putting a damper on the dangerous Garcia, and attacking the outside members of Ohlone's fullback corps. They are weak, Shaw feels, and susceptible to the wing attacks of John Glasky. He scored three times in a Chabot win over Cabrillo Monday, and has formed a deft offensive combination with link Juan Rodrigues.

Rodrigues and Cesar Trigueros are Chabot's leading scorers so far with four goals each. Link Dave Anderson leads the team in assists with three, and has played brilliantly so far, according to his coach.

All America Steve Hector will start in goal again this evening for Chabot, and Derek Hoxie will be a fullback. Both are former EBAL players.

Phil Tonne will see duty in the front line, though he will not start The Granada High School graduate had two assists in Monday's game.

Buranis awarded bikeway contract

LIVERMORE — Construction of the Hartford bikeway which will allow Christensen School children to ride to classes from the Proud Country area should begin within the next few days, reports Lee Kerin of the city public works department.

The city council Monday night awarded the bikeway construction project to local contractor and low bidder John Buranis for $10,800, including $800 for a woven wire fence with steel posts to separate bike riders from cattle in the area.

At the same time, the council awarded a $13,000 project to Buranis for phase one of the Arroyo Mocho bikeway, which will pave part of the existing dirt bike path centered on Holmes Street, explained Kerin.

The Hartford bikeway, approved by the council during budget study sessions at the request of the North of I-580 Citizens' Group, will be eight feet wide and run approximately 3,000 feet across Broadmoor Street to Hartford Avenue, just north of the Altamont Creek.

The Arroyo Mocho bikeway will be 10 feet wide and also paved for approximately 3,000 feet.

Work on both projects will be done on a time and materials basis under city supervision.

Farm board blocks election

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California's new farm labor board ruled Wednesday to prohibit one statewide election covering 156 growers.

The five-member state Agricultural Labor Relations Board met behind closed doors to talk about the request by the Teamsters Union.

The board's decision favors Cesar Chavez' United Farm Workers, who opposed the multi-employer election.

The board, which called the multi-employer unit "inappropriate," said ballots impounded at ranches within the 156-grower unit would be counted at once.

A board spokesman said elections and contracts at each of the 156 ranches would have to be handled individually.

Don Dressler, attorney for the Western Growers Association, said in an interview that his group would go to court immediately if the board rejected the Teamsters' the 156-ranch single election plan.

Dressler said the basic goal of the suit would be to have the court find that the multiemployer unit is a legal arrangement. The Teamsters now have one contract with those 156 growers.

Under the new law, farm workers may vote to choose which union, if any, they want to represent them.

The Associated Press tally in farm worker elections so far gives the UFW 31 wins covering 5,300 workers and the Temsters 17 wins covering 4,400 workers.

In testimony on the multiunit issue Tuesday, growers and Teamsters said their contract on those ranches had been in effect over three years.

But UFW attorney Sandy Nathan said, "Historically, between the Teamsters and Western Growers Association there has been a sham labor relations agreement."

Board officials said 40 elections had been held on ranches in the unit as of Tuesday.

The UFW contends it has won many of those elections, and says word of the victories would strengthen its campaigns elsewhere.

Two weeks ago, growers went to court in support of the 156- ranch election, and a Sacramento Superior Court judge granted a preliminary injunction blocking ballot counts on any ranches in that unit.

But the growers dropped their suit when the board agreed to hold a hearing on the matter on the election, which would include mainly vegetable ranches in the Salinas Valley.

The board also agreed to delay ballot counts at any of the 156 ranches where elections were held until it decided if one election would be allowed.

Pride in your lawn

A rich green lawn is a source of pride for any gardener.

With a little help from your nurseryman, you can develop a 12-month lawn care program to follow to assure a maximum of beauty and enjoyment without exerting a maximum of effort.

Regular feedings are of the utmost importance to the well-being of lawns — and this month is a good time to feed. Your nurseryman can recommend the correct fertilizers for the type of turf you have.

A complete meal of commercial fertilizer every two or three months will keep your lawn a pleasing green and in good shape.

A lawn should be fed after it has been thoroughly watered — when the soil is moist, but no water is visible on the grass leaves. Water again immediately after the application to rinse the lawn food into the soil and off the leaves.

A spreader will help assure uniform distribution of fertilizer. If using liquid lawn food, follow exactly the printed instructions of the fertilizer label.

This is true, too, of any preperation including all specially formulated lawn foods.

While older lawns may be thickly matted or compacted, this will make little difference in the method of application.

The best way to get nutrients to the roots of the lawn is to loosen the soil so that the food can get into the root zone.

Hard, compacted spots in the lawn should be aerated. Coring tools, for this purpose, are readily available, and will do the job of loosening soil.

Nurseries also offer soil penetrants and these are easy to apply. If in doubt as to how to proceed, solicit advice and instructions from your nurseryman.

Earthquake rumbles in southland

SAN LUIS OBISPO (AP) — An earthquake measuring 5.1 on the Richter scale was recorded in a remote area 50 miles north of San Luis Obispo Saturday afternoon but there were no reports of injuries or damage.

There were reports of dishes skidding from tables and pictures falling off walls at the central California site 250 miles north of Los Angeles.

A spokesman at the California Institute of Technology in Pasadena said the tremor was followed by a light aftershock.

Another slight earthquake shook northern San Luis Obispo and southern Monterey counties earlier Saturday, but it also caused no reported injuries or damage. Cal Tech said that quake apparently was too small to be recorded in Pasadena.

PEUGEOT
What makes this car so interesting to people getting 11, 12, 13 miles per gallon?
The 35 Miles Per Gallon* the Peugeot 504 diesel got in the 1975 EPA Federal gas mileage tests. Peugeot — the elegant, mid-size, mid-price import — delivers this kind of economy without stinting on the comforts so important to domestic car owners. Without sacrificing the superb maneuverability, the solid handling that is Peugeot. And with un-common standard features: independent suspension, disc brakes, reclining bucket seats, Michelin steel - belted radial tires and, on the sedan, a steel sliding sunroof.
*Actual mileage depends on where and how you drive and other variables.

Grazing cattle earn East Bay Parks funds

MOOOOO, remarks the beefy cow, gazing admiringly at the lettuce leaf dangling out of your tunafish sandwich as you picnic on the hillside.

After paying a buck to get into Del Valle Regional Park, you may be wondering whether you want to share your outing with a herd of cattle. But bear in mind, as you drive down the road shutting the cattle gate behind you, that cattle grazing is big business for the East Bay Regional Park District.

Earnings from grazing are expected to be some $107,000 in the coming year, including $4,828 from Del Valle.

At any time, some 1,220 head of cattle are wandering over 13 parks in the EBRPD system. Some parks, like Del Valle, allow only seasonal grazing.

According to resource analyst Harry Reeves, "The contribution of the park district to the local beef industry is not insignificant. A rough estimate is that within the 1,000 or so square miles in the total two-county (Alameda and Contra Costa Counties) district, about 7 per cent of the usable rangeland is within the EBRPD park boundaries.

"The 23 square miles actually grazed in the current year should have produced a total weight gain on beef cattle on the order of 350,000 pounds. This represents perhaps $200,000 in retail meat prices."

Reeves explains grazing is a technique used to keep down tall grasses for fire control and "to enhance grassland quality."

He says revenue is not the main consideration and that if cattle interfere with recreational uses of the parks, the cattle will have to go.
